Channel Talent Talks

Classical Civilisation: The Epics of Homer - UEA & Edinburgh - June 10

We are really pleased to welcome speakers from The University of Edinburgh and University of East Anglia on 10th June to explore The Epics of Homer.

With each speaker presenting an interactive micro talk, Dr Jo Poppleton from UEA will begin by examining hospitality/xenia in The Odyssey. Jo will analyse the rituals through which the bonds of guest-friendship are formed and ask how these rituals might work to temper the potential threat of strangers and diminish the likelihood of violence and aggression.

Then Dr Calum Maciver from Edinburgh will look at Alternative 'Achilles Stories' in Homer's Iliad introducing the idea of 'neoanalysis' and discussing its usefulness as a tool to interpret the characterisation of Achilles in Homer's Iliad.

EY Apprenticeship Opportunities in Business, Finance and Technology

What is an apprenticeship at EY?

An EY apprenticeship is a great way for you to kick-start your career and develop skills for life. You'll be working on real client projects from day one and supported by inspirational colleagues throughout. At the end of the paid programme, you'll have gained an industry recognised qualification, a host of transferable skills, lots of practical experience and a network of mentors to help you continue to progress within EY.

Why choose an EY Business Apprenticeship?

Across four years you will:

- Get to know clients, their businesses, and how they work
- Deliver real client work and solve complex problems
- Work with colleagues nationally and internationally
- Work towards a Level 7 Apprenticeship qualification in Accountancy and Taxation
- Do the same qualification as all EY graduates. You could even progress faster than your university-going peers.
